Greetings from the Chronicler

Welcome to the January, 2012 issue of The Zephyr. Hopefully, you enjoyed our delightful spring weather lately . . . oh wait, that was a very confused Winter? No complaints here!!!

Our particular focus for this issue of The Zephyr is SCA Resolutions/SCA goals for the new year. What do you want to change in or add to your SCA life in 2012? What new task or skill do you intend to start in the new year?

Submissions and Publication

I'm happy to receive submissions of any sort for our newsletter. If you write it or draw it, I'll find space to publish it. We are publishing on a quarterly basis, and the next issue will come out in April 2012, with a submission deadline of the end of March. Please note that if you submit something to me other than an Officer's Report, I will need the proper release forms for my records. I look forward to your contributions!

Officer Reports

Letter from the Baron and Baroness

Another new calendar year is upon us, and with the theme of this issue being resolutions, it seems natural to set some for the barony.

But what should they be?

It would seem more natural to set baronial resolutions closer to our anniversary date, but it does always take a little while for these things to percolate. For instance, one idea yet to percolate is the notion that we now have baronial awards. “Yeah, so?” you might be inclined to say. Well, same as with kingdom awards, input is requested on who should get them. We do our best to pay attention to the doings of our populace (and appreciate them!), but we can't be everywhere all the time. We are a pretty big area, after all. So, keep us informed. If you are aware of one of the awards already in circulation, and know someone who deserves it, please clue us in. If someone is doing something spectacular that we haven't created an award for, chances are one is in the works, and again, please clue us in. For the most recent award addition, please see our herald's report as well as his award description in this issue. And thank you to Herr Alexander, who has worked very hard to please us by making these happen. Just as our previous herald, THL Phebe, made sure we had appropriate paperwork for our baronial device, name etc. in place and got us started with our first award, Alexander is doing the same for subsequent awards. We understand that several other heralds are also working with him in this effort, and we'd like to extend our thanks to them as well, Lady Marissa in particular.

This leads to another potential for resolutions: Working together. It concerns us that coordination among canton officers could be better. We're all in this together, and that means we can all help one another. Be it on getting reports in (remember canton officers, reports must go into your baronial superior, and really, it's just an extra line on the cc list), or getting the work done. Concerning the latter, there is a lot to be said for having that local reference group to bounce ideas off of, such as (what demo's might we try to do, or fighter practice space could be shared, etc. There are always ways of making things work better, improving communication, inclusiveness, and so on.

Lastly, it is our hope that we might inspire someone to step forward to head off a baronial event for this year. There are so many ideas that could be employed, such as revisiting the Carnival idea that we started while still just a 'town,' or continuing last year's Pennsic prep notion, which seemed to be well enjoyed by all who attended—and especially by those who feasted!

Letter from the Baron and Baroness (Continued)

Speaking of Pennsic, though not quite a resolution we wish to hear from our populace concerning their Pennsic plans. We'd like to hang onto the space that we enjoyed last year, and her Excellency is available to participate in land grab if necessary, but what of others? We want to make a good baronial showing, and though we can certainly do this without a dedicated baronial camp, it would be nice to see one maintained. Please let us know your plans, thoughts and concerns in this regard.

And finally, we'd like to extend our heartfelt thanks to Lady Margrett, who has labored over our newsletter. We all know what a thankless job putting together a newsletter is. Many of us forget our deadlines, forget altogether or provide contributions that are wildly different from what was anticipated, making layout & assembly difficult. No matter how great an issue might be, feedback is often not there, good or bad. Despite all this, Lady Margrett has persevered to provide us with a wonderful newsletter over the last year. We hope you will support her successor at least as well.

Baroness, Baron Ayreton*

Pursuivant Report

New Year Greetings unto the fine Populace for Ayreton,

Another year has come and gone, The Domesday reports have been filed and we are open to the possibilities that lay before us in the next year. Last year we managed to submit several Order Names to the Society for consideration; look for new awards in the new year.

Now is the time to begin working on those projects for the coming Campaigns. You know you have been thinking about that new Heraldic piece of Garb or maybe you have been dreaming of a Heraldic Standard of your Device.

Maybe your goals for the New Year are for improved Armor, maybe you want to try your hand at a new style of Garb. Whatever your ambitions, I encourage you to pursue them with passion.

This year I am seeking to pull together a proper Order of Precedent for the Barony. To do this, it will help if you help me. Please see the included Baronial OP Data Sheet and return it to me at your convenience at an Event or you can email me the information. You can find my email address in the Officer listings here in the newsletter.

Finally, it was a great pleasure to be present at 'All Souls' where the first two recipients of the new Order of Ursis were announced.

The Order of Ursis is a Martial Arts Award, given to Heavy and Light Weapons Fighters. The Order is named for the Constellation Ursa Major as well as being a fun play on a well known Sports team or two in Mundane Chicago. Think Pig Skin and Ivy Walls.

*Many warm wishes to you all,
Herr Alexander Adelbrecht von Markelingen, APF
Baronial Pursuivant Ayreton*

Seneschal Report

Greetings Ayreton!

Happy New Year. I hope that you've been enjoying the unseasonably warm weather we're having. Slowly but surely the days are getting longer and Spring will be here before you know it. Now is the time to dust off those unfinished projects or pick up something new. Check out the baronial web page to find out when the different activities are happening. There's something to do almost everyday of the week.

It's not too early to consider lending your talents to the barony and volunteering to be an officer. Elections will take place at the June populace meeting. If you want to know what's involved in a particular office, reach out to the person who's doing it now or myself. Many hands make light work and we need you!

In Service I remain,

Sarafina
Seneschal

Creation of the Order of Ursis

There are some who fight for gains, some who fight for power and some who fight for the love of War. But there are also those who fight for Honor, Glory and the greater good. It is the last type which stays every ready to defend the land that they love but does not seek out a quarrel. They demonstrate the finest qualities, Chivalry, courtesy and faithfulness.

In these lands there is a beast that is known for such greatness, the mighty Bear. These Noble Beasts charge the field against invaders, defending their lands. So legendary is the Bear that it has even earned a place among the stars.

It is a Pleasure, granted by the Crown unto the Landed Nobility, to create Baronial Orders and Awards. To recognize the talents, skills and service of the populace. As such, We are minded to create the Order of Ursis to recognize Skill on the field of battle, a skill of great value in these lands. We name this order for the Great Bear Ursis. For Truly these nobles are Great Bears on our Fields.

Principal Companions of the Order:

Seamus MacBain

Gwynneth verch Ieuan

The Baronial Green and Blue Fashion Show

Ladies and Gentlemen, thread your needles!

At Grey Gargoyle's Stone Dog Inn event on April 14, there will be a fashion show. Winners will be chosen by either by Baron/Baroness's choice, populace choice, applause-o-meter, or, or a combination of all 3. Prizes to be determined. This challenge is just for fun, and for a chance to take your Project down the Runway.

Here are the rules:

1. Garb can be from any culture as long as it fits into our SCA timeframe of 600-1600.
2. Garb should be primarily blue and green. White stars are encouraged.
3. You must wear the outfit in the fashion show.

Here are the NOT RULES:

1. You don't have to provide documentation.
2. You do not have to hand sew it.
3. Garb DOES NOT HAVE TO BE NEW. You can mix and match the green and blue garb you already have to make up an outfit.
4. This is not an A&S display, it's just for FUN and FASHION.

So let's hear it for the Green, Blue, and White and show off your finest fashions at the Stone Dog Inn!

If you have any questions, feel free to e-mail me at vrayhill (at) yahoo (dot) com.

*Sincerely,
Dame Jocelyn of Lutterworth*

So You Want to Guard the Royalty Room?

So often we give this task to newer people so that they have something of value to do at events. But how often do we really train them? They get the quick: stand here, hold this (spear, sword, pike etc), and don't let anyone in.

Huh?

That doesn't help. Most Royals want to meet with their populace, particularly if they have a specific piece of information ("Hi, I'm from Red Company, and the King needs to know our numbers for x event") or they were sent ("the Prince requested my presence").

The useful bit of course is to know: who is in the royal room (King /Queen /Prince/ Princess / local landed Baron/ess ), if they are seeing anyone at a given time, if they can be disturbed (perhaps there is a meeting going on), and whatever else the prior shift of guards was able to provide as far as information.

Depending on the event or circumstance, there may be a peer on duty to facilitate communications, as there usually is at Pennsic. If not, it will be up to one of the guards to enter the room and ask if the guest at the door may be admitted. Obviously, one wants to knock first, be polite, avoid interrupting an ongoing conversation once in, and be brief, but still have as much pertinent information about the guest as possible.

For schtick purposes you may wish to make sure they are not well armed ("If you are allowed in, I'd like to keep that 8-foot spear out here, for the King's safety"). But in general, we like to assume people have the best of intentions. That doesn't mean we can't mess with them a little--especially if you're the guard stuck waiting with them outside, while admittance options are being checked. Just don't be rude, and be careful not to offend. (Remember that some people will offend easily. ) This is after all part of our game, and part of the show or atmosphere we are creating.

We also want to make sure that when the Royalty has privacy when they need it, attendants when they require them, and access to their populace when appropriate.

So, yes! This is a great job for a new person. Just please give that person some idea of the expectations including the bits mentioned here. If you are that new person please don't be afraid to give it a try. You can also meet some very fun people this way as well, and get a much greater sense of what our game is really about, as well.

My Plans for AS 46 & 47 (2012)

On the theme of SCA Resolutions/SCA goals, it behooves me to share mine as well since I have been urging all of you to do so for this issue. My 2012 goals include a number of things (especially finding a new job). Due to my love of early music and renaissance dance, I'm in the middle of setting up regular renaissance dance practices in the northwest/far northwest suburbs on alternate Monday evenings with the gracious help of THL Teleri. I will also continue to sing in both The Pippins and Court & Country and to explore early music research and performance.

I'm also working on learning to play trombone so I can apply my experience playing horn in my youth to an instrument that existed in the renaissance era. I want to be able to play with dance bands or in a renaissance instrumental ensemble. And I will continue to do copious amounts of independent research and teach, present or perform what I've learned at every event that I can.

Unfortunately, I've also come to the decision that I need to step down as Chronicler for the Barony of Ayreton. Please support my successor and give lots of articles and contributions. And expect to see articles from me in every newsletter issue after I step down as I will NOT stop contributing to our Barony just because I am no longer Chronicler.

Ayreton Chronicler
